

Virginia Pérez is a chemical engineer from the Complutense University of Madrid and a PhD from the University of Valladolid. I have been working at CIEMAT for 17 years on waste and biomass gasification, as well as gas cleaning to obtain energy or other products.

